

"You're going to change the world." Superman

"You're much stronger than you think you are, trust me." Superman

"There is a superhero in all of us, we just need the courage to put on the cape." Superman

"There is a right and a wrong in the universe, and that distinction is not hard to make." Superman

"You will give people an ideal to strive towards, they will race behind you they will stumble, they will fall, but in time they will join you, in time you will help them accomplish wonders." Jor El

"So many of our dreams at first seem impossible, then they seem improbable, and then when we summon the will, they soon become inevitable." Christopher Reeve

"It's not an S, on my world it means hope." Superman

"You will be different, sometimes you'll feel like an outcast, but you'll never be alone." Superman

"With great power comes great responsibility." Superman

"Sometimes you have to take a leap of faith first, the trust part comes later." Superman

"Dreams save us. Dreams lift us up and transform us." Superman

"Why am I so different from them?" Superman

"What if a child dreams of becoming something other than what society had intended? What if a child aspires to something greater." Jor El

"I'm here to fight for truth and justice." Superman

"They can be a great people, Kal-El, they wish to be. They only lack the light to show the way. For this reason above all, their capacity for good, I have sent them you... my only son." Jor-El

"The only way to know how strong you are is to keep testing your limits." Jor El It's obvious. Only a criminal would disguise himself as a licensed, bonded guard yet callously park in front of a fire hydrant."

"We've come a long way from the Prime Minister's exploding cake. Or have we?"

. "Salt and corrosion. The infamous old enemies of the crime fighter"

. "A reporter's lot is not easy, making exciting stories out of plain, average, ordinary people like Robin and me."

"It's sometimes difficult to think clearly when you're strapped to a printing press."

Robin: "You can't get away from Batman that easy!"

Batman: "Easily."

Robin: "Easily."

Batman: "Good grammar is essential, Robin."

Robin: "Thank you."

Batman: "You're welcome."

"Yes, he moves very quickly for an overstuffed and unlikely Egyptian Pharaoh"

Robin: "Let's go!"

Batman: "Not you, Robin. They have strict licensing laws in this country. A boy of your age is not allowed in a drinking tavern."

Chief O'Hara: "Will you be wanting extra police protection?"

Batman: "No thank you, Chief O'Hara. This time I think Robin and I better go at it alone. Any large contingent of police officers might create unnecessary confusion.

. "Catwoman, I find you to be odious, abhorrent, and inescapable."

"Robin: Where'd you get a live fish, Batman?"

Batman: "The true crimefighter always carries everything he needs in his utility belt, Robin."

"It is the duty of every good citizen of Gotham City to report meeting a man from Mars in a public park".

"No, Robin. With my head sticking out of this neosaurus costume, I might not appear like an ordinary, run of the mill crimefighter."

"Let that be a lesson. In future, be more careful from who you accept free lemonade.

(after coming through Barbara's window): "We would have entered the building by more conventional means, but we didn't want to startle the tenants."

That's one trouble with dual identities, Robin. Dual responsibilities."
